Transportation and getting around

Getting to Canterbury

By Air: all the London airports (Heathrow, Gatwick, Stansted, City, Luton) are accessible via public transport, and many of them roughly the same travel time to Canterbury. You will need to travel from London to Canterbury (options include train or Underground/train combination, coach and taxi). Suggested routes can be recommended if you contact us.

By Train: both Canterbury East and Canterbury West stations are near the campus. East is slightly closer, but West has quicker links to central London via the HS1 highspeed service. Both stations are fairly close to the campus, but you may wish to get a taxi from the taxi rank if you are travelling with a large amount of luggage! The cost should be between £5-10. The local train company is Southeastern. You can find train information via National Rail Enquiries: <http://www.nationalrail.co.uk/>. You can also use the Eurostar service from the Continent (nearest stop is Ashford International, which is about 20 minutes on the train from Canterbury West): <http://www.eurostar.com/uk-en>

By Coach/ Bus: National Express runs coaches from central London and other parts of the UK: <http://www.nationalexpress.com/home.aspx>. Stagecoach is the local bus operator: <https://www.stagecoachbus.com/>

By Car: there isn't any parking at the campus. The city has a park and ride service: <https://www.canterbury.gov.uk/parking-travel-roads/park-and-ride/>. Details of car parks: <https://www.canterbury.gov.uk/parking-travel-roads/where-to-park/canterbury-parking/> Queningate and Longport car parks are particularly close to the campus.

Getting around Canterbury

Canterbury is a small city, with two train stations and a bus station. It is easy to get around in the city centre without public transportation. There is a large section of the centre of town that is pedestrianised.

The campus

The post code for the main campus in Canterbury is CT1 1QU. Campus information and maps can be found at: <https://www.canterbury.ac.uk/about-us/find-us/canterbury.aspx>

Accessibility information

A general note

As much as possible, we are trying to make as much information as possible available about disability access to the conference, and we'd like to reassure delegates that we are trying to make plans taking the needs of all different people into consideration (see below). However, there may be some areas where we don't have all the information as yet, and so if you do need further details please contact critsui2@gmail.com. We recognise that you shouldn't have to do more work to find out if this conference will meet your needs, so I hope you can be patient with us while we are confirming all the arrangements. Please know that we will do our best to support everyone to be able to take part.
